

December 2, 2019

Dairy Direct Payment Program (DDPP) Deadline for 2019 payment extended to December 13, 2019

The Board has received the following update today from the Canadian Dairy Commission (CDC) regarding the planned compensation for dairy producers as a result of market access commitments made under recent international trade agreements:

The portal is still not up BUT we will start issuing payments this week. It will be done on a first come, first served basis so people who sent their registration first will get paid first. Also, we have extended the deadline for a guaranteed payment in 2019. We will guarantee a payment in 2019 if registrations are received by December 13 instead of December 6. For registration received later than that, we will try to pay in 2019 but we won't be able to guarantee it. So far, about 99.9% of producers want to be paid this year.

We [the CDC] will update the site of the program accordingly.

The Registration form is available at: <https://application.cdc-ccl.gc.ca/ddpp-ppdpl>

Please refer to the previous BCMMB updates on the DDPP program, if needed:

Notice to Producers - Important DDPP - November 26, 2019

Notice to Producers - DDPP Updated - November 22, 2019

Notice to Producers - Dairy Direct Payment Program - Sep 4 2019

If you have any questions on the program, the process, or you haven't received your letter regarding the compensation program and process yet, be sure to call the DDPP help-line toll-free: 1-877-246-4682 or email: aafc.ddpp-ppdpl.aac@canada.ca

Please note that the CDC portal is currently still not working, and the toll-free help line may be extremely busy, but email replies from the above email address are relatively quick.